BOEN AND PARNELL MEETING CLOSES TUESDAY NIGHT.

Splendid Program of Services Arranged for Sunday—Union Rally at 4 p. m.—Crowds Continue.

Rev. Challener announces that the revival services conducted by Boen and Parnell will close Tuesday night, and it is the desire of all to get as much out of the remaining services as possible. To that end a special interesting program of Sunday services has been announced.

Rev. Boen will preach Sunday morning at 11 o'clock on "The Great Commission." At 4 p. m. Rev. Boen will address a big union rally, in which all the churches are invited to participate. At night he will preach on the subject, "After Death, Then What?" This is regarded by many as his most masterly sermon, and it is especially desired that all attend this service.

Crowds continue to attend the services. Rev. Boen spoke last night if a modern Noah should proclaim another deluge. He applied the lesson to faith in general, showing that all like Noah, are saved by believing and obeying. The word painting descriptive of the awful catastrophe and the consternation of the people was very fine. In conclusion the congregation was admonished that another and a final destruction by fire awaits the earth.

TEXAS EDITORS IN SESSION.

Mineral Wells, Texas, May 21.—A large number of Texas editors were present when the twenty-ninth annual convention of the Texas Press Association was called to order by President W. H. Buia, of El Paso, this morning. The convention will remain in session three days, during which time many topics of live interest to the editors and publishers will be discussed. Addresses will be delivered by State Railroad Commissioner Colquitt, President Brooks of Baylor University and others of prominence.

At the White House conference J. J. Hill declared that the hope of a nation lies in the soil, with a dramatic air as though it were his own discovery. Wise men of Egypt and Chaldea knew it 7000 years ago.

Already the South is shipping to the North $100,000,000 of vegetables annually and the business is yet in infancy. The Brazos county farmer who is not getting his share of should get in the game.

Palestine has come up smiling out of the disastrous floods which visited us section. The Herald says: "The farmers are working to repair damages done by the recent storms and rains. You cannot lose people who stay busy in the face of all kinds of trouble."

When it was announced that a mysterious Japanese steamer was prowling along the California coast everybody expected Hobson to again soar on the wings of spread-eagle eloquence in behalf of a great navy— it didn't.

The Goliad Guard writes it Amos Quio. But no matter what spell is used he is a pestilent fellow. See to it that there is no stagnant water in any old tin cans, pans or bottles and that there are no low places in the gutters whence he can come in swarms to bite and spread disease.

Reports come to town daily to the effect that good crops are in evidence on all sides.

Baring those who suffered in the recent overflow, the farmers as a rule are satisfied with both the season and the condition of the crops. The past day or two of hot sunshine is showing its effect upon young cotton and is making it grow off at a rapid rate. The critical period, while not entirely passed, is not dreaded now and a bumper crop for Grimes county is looked for.—Navasota Examiner-Review.

Nothing is so much needed to induce a general revival of business as an active campaign for better roads, bridges and crossings. An active committee from the Progressive League will call on you Monday to solicit funds with which to improve the bridge approaches outside of the county on all sides, also the roads in the immediate vicinity outside the county leading to these bridges. Now is the time to help yourself and your own business by helping the town. Think over it and be ready with a liberal subscription when the committee calls Monday.

Notice is hereby given that no one is allowed to play on the links of the Bryan Golf Club except members in good standing or visitors invited by members in good standing. Others must stay away from the links.

142 T. K. Lawrence, Vice-pres.

representatives of the department has arranged to go to Camden next week to witness the launching of the great battleship Michigan at the yards of the New York Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. The big sea fighter will be christened by Miss Caryl Newberry, daughter of Truman H. Newberry, assistant secretary of the Navy, whose home is in Michigan. Governor Warner and a party of State officials of Michigan also will attend the launching.

The Michigan will be a notable addition to the new navy. The armament plans call for a main battery of eight 12-inch breech-loading rifles, and two submerged torpedo tubes, while the secondary battery is to consist of twenty-two 3-inch rapid-fire guns, two 23-pounder semi-automatic guns, eight 1-pounder semi-automatics, two 3-inch field pieces, and four machine guns of .30 calibre. The 12-inch guns, of which the Michigan will carry twice as many on board as any American vessel now in commission or building, are to be mounted in pairs, in four electrically controlled elliptical turrets, each with an arc of fire of 270 degrees, two turrets being forward and two aft. The guns of the secondary battery will be placed in commanding positions, and are to have large unobstructed arcs of fire. The torpedo tubes will be installed forward.

The hull of the Michigan will be protected by a waterline belt of armor that will vary in thickness from twelve to eight inches in some sections, from ten to twelve inches in some, and from eleven to nine inches in other sections. The casemate armor is to be from eight to ten inches thick, while an armored bulkhead ten inches thick will extend entirely across the ship.

The engines of the new battleship are to have a combined indicated horsepower of 16,500, each engine to be in a separate water-tight compartment. The twelve water-tube boilers, which are to be fitted with superheaters, will be in three water-tight compartments, and the coal bunkers are to have a maximum capacity of about 2200 tons. All the main compartments below the gun deck will be provided with forced ventilation, the combined capacity of the seventeen blowers being not less than 100,000 cubic feet per minute.

COL. MOSBY ILL.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—Colonel John S. Mosby, the ex-Confederate scout and colonel of cavalry, has been ill for some time and is now an inmate of the Garfield Hospital in this city. He is in his seventy-fifth year, but he is possessed of a rugged constitution and his physicians expect to pull through his present illness unless complications set in.

A native of Virginia, Colonel Mosby was one of the first to enlist in the cause of the Confederacy, and the part he played in the big struggle made the Union commanders wish that he had never turned his back to the south. His attachment to the cause of the south was strong, and his raid on the rear of McClellan's army at Chichahominy was as bold a bit of enterprise as may be read in the history of warfare. His most brilliant feat was the capture of General Stoughton at that Union officer's headquarters. Scarce less daring was his capture of General Sherman's entire supply train, which he accomplished by a raid into the Union lines.

WILSON & FERRELL

COMMITTEE DOWN TO BUSINESS AT ONCE.

Will Raise Funds to Improve Approaches in Other Counties to All Bridges on Navasota and Brazos Rivers.

Pursuant to ac all of Chairman G. S. Parker the members of the Public Improvements committee of the Bryan Progressive League held a meeting yesterday morning at the office of the City National Bank and resolved to make an intelligent and systematic effort to put approaches on the out-of-Brazos county side of all bridges on the Brazos and Navasota rivers in good condition, also the immediate section of the roads out of the county leading to these bridges. This work will be done independently of the Brazos county authorities, who will continue to look after the roads and bridges and approaches in the county, and in order to raise funds for this out-of-the-county work, a subcommittee of the Public Improvements committee, composed of Messrs. W. E. Saunders, W. R. Sanders, A. W. Buchanan and G. S. Parker, will call upon the people of the city Monday for subscriptions. The committee desires to have everybody consider the matter thoroughly between now and Monday and to be ready to respond to the movement liberally. The money will be spent under the direct supervision of the members of the committee and all contracts will be let and material bought by bids.

This is a very important move and will result in great good in bringing trade to the town from all directions. Some years ago enterprising business men of this city adopted a similar plan and even built a levy on the Navasota river at one point to protect the crossing. The result was that a great deal of trade was brought to this city, and cotton marketed here. In pursuance of instructions from the League the committee also named the following gentlemen to be honorary members of the committee and to keep watch on the roads within their respective communities and report to the active committee above named any work needed at any point in the county. The honorary members and the roads they will serve are:

Jones Ferry road—J. A. Hagens. Pitt Bridge road—John Kasarek. Democrat Crossing road—E. R. Lloyd.

Chaney Bridge road—J. C. Lloyd. Sandy Point road—B. L. Reed. Moseley's Ferry Road—M. W. Sims Jr.

Harvey road—L. S. Williams. Morgan's Gin road—Claude Morgan. Mumford Crossing road—Joe Kopecky.

Benchley road—F. A. Capps. Wheelock road—J. B. Walker. Dillashaw Tap road—George Edge. Wellborn road—L. F. Battle. Sulphur Springs road—P. L. Barron. Macy road—Henry Koontz.

It will be seen that this large honorary or sub-committee covers fifteen important roads leading to Bryan, and serving the people of all parts of the county as well as those who come from other counties. The Eagle regards this as one of the most effective measures that could have been adopted of keeping the Progressive League and the county authorities thoroughly informed as to the need of roads and bridges.

At the same meeting yesterday morning the Public Improvements committee considered the fire protection problem and it was agreed to meet with the fire company at an early date to be agreed upon and take such action with reference to making recommendations to the city council as seems advisable.

The Eagle is gratified with the manner in which the committee has taken hold of the immediate problems demanding attention and hopes that support of the efforts put forth will be hearty and unanimous to the end that the desired results may be accomplished.

A PERPLEXING PROBLEM.

This Addition to Joint Tariff Provides
For Reduced Minimum Weights on Carload Shipments From and to Texas and Mexican Points.

Washington, May 22.—Agents of F. A. Leland of the Southwestern Tariff committee and F. J. Tucker of the Central Freight association received from the interstate commerce commission special permission to issue supplement to the joint tariff providing for reduced minimum weights on carload shipments from and to points in Texas and Mexico governed by the Texas-Mexico classification exceptions if the supplement filed with the commission gives one day's notice to public.

On account of varying character varying equipment used by lines, question minimum weights have been the source of much perplexity to railroads as well as to shippers and much time has been devoted to the question by both parties.

Believed Incendiary.

Mayfield, Ky., May 22.—Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed property valued at $65,000 and caused the death of one person, Isaac Owen, who dropped dead from the excitement. Since the burning of the light and water plants Sunday the city has been without the usual supply of water, and the fire was checked with water hauled to the scene in wagons. Chicago, May 22.—The solution of the mystery surrounding the murder of Robert Holmes, purchasing agent for the Commonwealth Edison Electric company, whose dead body was found in a downtown alley early Thursday disclose it is thought, the operations of exports in crime. That the killing and robbing was not the work of ordinary street thugs but perpetrated by men who probably mingled with the victim's friends at the Auditorium and represented themselves to be delegates to the electrical convention and then followed him as he left the hotel, the police authorities are agreed.
